Athelhampton House is pleased to introduce its refurbished Media Suite

Refurbished in 2008, our new Media Suite offers state of the art facilities.

Athelhampton House is one of the finest 15th Century Houses in England, and now includes our fully refurbished Media Suite for Business and Private use.

Located in the East Wing of Athelhampton House, the Media Suite offers state of the art features.

The room is decorated in the 'Art Deco' style with numerous original fixtures and fittings from the period.

For your comfort, full cinema style seating is provided for up to 77 delegates. Each chair has its own flip out desk so note taking or classroom style meetings are easily accommodated.

Full blackout blinds and numerous lighting schemes provide the perfect ambiance for your presentation or meeting.

For presentations a High Definition projector provides superb images on a wide-screen cinema style screen from a DVD or other source and a separate Data projector is available for 'Powerpoint' style presentations from a computer.

Sound is provided through a Dolby Digital THX certified surround sound system and provides a sound experience rivaled by the best cinemas in the country.

A lectern with microphone is available for your use and for the comfort of those who are hard of hearing, a hearing-aid loop has been installed.

Various break-out and board rooms are available for your use.

Refreshments can be offered at various points during the day, with morning coffee and afternoon tea served in the historic Great Hall dating from 1485.

For Lunch or Dinner, dining facilities are provided in our Long Hall dining room, with catering from our hospitality team, using locally sourced fresh seasonal produce.
